

VideoTape and You: Lunch and Learn

Thursday, February 16 11:30 AM - 1:30 PM

Thursday, February 16, 2011

This is a two-hour program

11:30 - 11:50 AM Registration, Lunch, Meet, Greet

11:50 AM - 1:30 PM We will videotape you and review each participant

You will have the choice to recite a paragraph from your own text, choose from a selection of famous speeches, practice as a TV guest, or duplicate a job interview.

We will videotape you and immediately play back what we taped. I will make suggestions, audience members may have comments and suggestions, and then we will videotape you again.

Because this is a special edition and professional videotaping is involved, there is a $60 fee for this session.

The food and phenomenal people are a BONUS!

How this session works:

- Seating is limited to eight maximum. so that everyone will have the opportunity to be videotaped and learn in real time
- Lunch is served
- Each person presents, the videotape is re-played and critiqued, suggestions made, the participant repeats the process implementing the suggestions
- If you did this session by yourself, the cost would be more than 10x this cost
- $60 needs to be paid to reserve your seat

Results: What you get from this session

- The value of seeing yourself the way others see you
- The value of immediate correction and improvement
- Ability to learn by both doing and observing
- Expertise of professionals: Instruction from Professional Communication Expert and Use of Professional Videographer
