Two from TRIAD/Next Level Set To Join Torchbearers Class of 2012

Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio –TRIAD Communications/Next Level Interactive announces John Moulagiannis and Marsha Griswold have been accepted into the 2012 class of Torchbearers Akron.

“This is going to be a valuable experience – both personally and professionally,” said Moulagiannis. “Torchbearers provides opportunities to connect with other young professionals with a variety of skill sets, knowledge and capabilities; learn more about Akron, and become more involved with some great community organizations.”

“This is an exciting time for Akron, and Torchbearers provides the opportunity to get involved,” said Griswold. “I’m really looking forward to the chance to connect with and learn from my peers in our community.”

Moulagiannis, Director, Interactive + Digital Media is a graduate of Cuyahoga Community College with a degree in Visual Communication and Design. Griswold, Client Service Specialist, Traditional + Emerging Media is a graduate of The University of Toledo and holds a BA in Communication.

About Torchbearers

Torchbearers was founded in 2003 by Akron area residents Scott Read and Jefferson Satterfield. The organization was designed to strengthen the connection between Akron area non-profits and young adults, and to further efforts to attract and retain young professionals to Greater Akron. The organization was founded to strengthen the connection between Akron area non-profits and young people and to further efforts to attract and retain young people to Greater Akron.
